This week, I have been talking to children about some changes to the traffic light system we use to manage behaviour.

From next Monday:

- Every child will start both the morning and afternoon on GREEN – this is the behaviour we expect
- When a child is on green for the whole morning or afternoon they will receive 1 dojo
- When a child is working really hard with both their learning and behaviour they will be moved to SILVER and receive 3 dojos. Parents will be sent a text to tell them when their child is on SILVER
- When a child has received SILVER 5 times then they will move to GOLD. They will receive 10 dojos and a special certificate. These children will be named in a special GOLD book

Parents can find out more by reading the updated Behaviour Policy on www.west-street.org

Congratulations to our Learners of the Week for being READY TO LEARN You have earned 10 dojos!

Not sure whether your child should come to school or not? We are receiving more phone calls from parents about whether their child should be in school or not. This is totally understandable – as adults we are all doing our best to work out what to do when the children in our care are unwell. Attached is ‘A quick guide for parents/carers’ published by the NHS. Please read through the quick guide on the next page. This will help to make it clear whether you should send your child in to school or not. Keep the guide in a safe place at home so you can keep using it.
